THE GATES OPENED

EDMONTON'S BIG FAIR IS ON

Glorious Weather and Large Exhibits
Preparations for a Big Show
To-Day's Race Program

The gates at the exhibition grounds opened this morning for Edmonton's great annual exhibition. The forenoon was chiefly occupied with the arrangement of exhibits and judging and from the public standpoint of view the fair really begins this afternoon when the first race program will be pulled off.

Exhibits of live stock, grains, grasses and vegetables have been coming in yesterday and today from all parts of the country and the visitors this afternoon will probably see one of the largest and best collections of Alberta's products ever brought together.

GLORIOUS WEATHER

The weather which for the past few weeks has been an unreliable element and on whose behaviour much of the success of the fair depends seems disposed to sustain the "sunny" reputation of Alberta. The morning broke bright and clear with a cool breeze from the west which still continues, making ideal weather for a holiday.

THE TOWN EN FETE

Flags came out on the public buildings and many business houses early this morning while decorations and bunting displays are plentifully in evidence. The stores closed at noon and will remain closed during the afternoon and evening. The same rule applies tomorrow and Saturday except that they reopen Saturday at 6 o'clock.

PARADE THIS MORNING

The band paraded up Jasper avenue this morning playing at every corner, thereby adding to the holiday feeling that is in the air. The school children's procession was called off and instead free admission tickets good for today were distributed in the schools yesterday.

PREPARED FOR THE FAIR

The exhibition grounds, for a year past deserted were the scene of bustling activity yesterday in preparation for the fair. Tents and stands were rising in every direction and the sound of the hammer was heard in the land. Awnings were being stretched along the front of the grand stand, advertising bunting was beginning to smile from every point of vantage and all about the premises was an air which betokened the advent of Central Alberta's great annual outing.

ALTERATIONS

A few improvements and alterations have been made about the grounds during the year. The visitor to the fair this year passes at the gate through mechanical turnstiles which prevent crowding and, incidentally, avoidance of the ticket agent. Similar contrivances have been situated at the entrances to the grand stand. The dining hall which was erected by the association last year to provide for the wants of the inner man has been turned into booths and the feeding of the crowds will be left to private caterers and the hospital societies.

ARRANGING THE EXHIBITS

In the exhibition building a large number of men were busy arranging the mercantile displays. None of these were completed but progress had been made which warrants the prediction that the finished display will surpass those of all past years. Nearly all the large mercantile and manufacturing concerns have exhibits and the combined effect of these and the agricultural exhibits will give the hall a most pleasing appearance.

TRACK IN SPLENDID CONDITION
The track was perhaps never in better condition than yesterday afternoon. The peeling rain of Tuesday but served to harden the surface and the strong breeze yesterday had removed all traces of moisture and with the bright sun and strong breeze this morning the track conditions this afternoon should be all that is desirable for good races.

There were yesterday over fifty horses in the stables, on the grounds, coming from all parts of the Canadian west from Manitoba to the coast and many from the neighboring states across the border. Among these are the queens and princesses of the western turf and the spectators should see some races worth while.

TODAY'S RACE PROGRAM
The race program begins this afternoon at 2 p.m. The races billed for today are:

Three minutes trot or pace.
3-8 mile dash, open.
3-4 mile dash, open.
1-1 mile pony race, 14 1-2 hands and under.
2-31 pace or 2-26 trot.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the fireworks displays, the entire centre of the ring being taken up for this purpose. The first display will be given this evening.

THE OPERA.

"The Mikado" was the bill for the evening at the Rink Theatre last evening. The audience was not large, but thoroughly appreciative and many encores were responded to. Many laughable situations of the plot were splendidly brought out, the solo were well rendered and the chorus work excellent. Splendid costumes and skilful lighting arrangements added much to the presentation of the opera.

Tonight "The Bohemian Girl" will be put on and will doubtless draw a large audience.

ROSS BRO'S. WINDOW

Ross Bro's have quite a unique window display. The back ground is formed of double-barrelled guns and rifles, anyone of which would delight the heart of a sportsman. In the foreground is a pond surrounded by mossy banks and disporting in the waters of the pond are six young ducks, very much alive and taking just a little curious interest in their new surroundings. Two decoy ducks occupy places in the window, but the live little fellows seem to regard them as "dead ones" and give them a wide berth.

A display of fishing tackle, a few boxes of cartridges and the glistening blades of hunting knives form the side displays at the pond. Altogether the window is nicely gotten up and is attracting a good deal of attention from those passing by.

ELECTRIC DISPLAY

The North West Electric Company have their place of business very nicely draped with red, white and blue bunting and decorated with electric bulbs in the same colors. A large star of bunting and lights forms the centre of the decorations. Last evening, when the lights were on, the building had a very attractive appearance indeed.

AGAIN SENTENCED

FOR HAYWARD'S MURDER

Charles King Again Found Guilty of Murder and Sentenced to Be Hanged

Yesterday afternoon at 3:35 p.m., Charles King was, for a second time, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Edward Hayward. The jury retired at 2:10 p.m. and at 3:30 they returned to the court room. The gravity of the case they were called upon to decide showed in their faces. They wore the air of men who had endeavored to do their duty no matter how disagreeable. His Lordship Judge Scott took his place on the bench, the clerk of the court called the roll of jurymen and then inquired if they had agreed upon a verdict. Foreman Bristow answered, "We have."

"What is your verdict?" inquired the clerk.

"Guilty," answered the foreman.

The other jurors being asked if they agreed, all bowed assent. His Lordship then asked the jury if their verdict was guilty of manslaughter or murder. "Guilty of murder, my Lord," answered Foreman Bristow. The prisoner's face paled slightly, but he steeled his nerves to the ordeal and faced the verdict very calmly.

The Judge then asked the clerk for the calendar, and there was an ominous silence in the room as every person recognized that the day of the prisoner's death was being decided.

After a brief consultation of the calendar, His Lordship spoke, "Charles King, have you anything to say before sentence is passed?"

The prisoner arose at the mention of his name, and in a low, but firm

ANOTHER GEM

The Mail and Empire has broken loose again. This time it discusses the probable political line-up in Alberta, to the discussion of which it contributes the following intelligent and courteous observations:

In the northern part of Alberta there is a large foreign population and a relatively sparse settlement of Canadians. In southern Alberta the Galicians and Roumanians, the Ruthenians and Bulgarians, are not so numerous, and the Canadians are strong. The federal Government feels that it can make the foreigners; it knows that it cannot influence the Canadians. In the arrangement of the constituencies, therefore, the number allotted to the Canadians in the south is small, while the number given to the Galicians and Bulgarians of the north is large. For 162,000 Canadians in the southern part of the province, there are eleven members. For 89,000 people including a large foreign element in the north, there are thirteen members. There are 33,000 more people in southern Alberta than in northern Alberta, and the larger number are allowed two members less than the smaller number get. At the same time, the smaller number—the people who have the larger representation in the Legislature—are for the most part foreigners. Calgary, with 2,650 registered voters, gets one member. Stony Plain, with 766 voters, has the same. The English settlements are given small representation for a large population, while the foreign settlements are given a large representation for a small population. The arrangement is the embodiment of the gerrymander idea. It has been scientifically managed and carefully calculated. Sir Wilfrid Laurier expects by it to keep down the influence in the Local Legislature of the English-speaking people."

PARLIAMENT.
(Hansard)

MR. McCARTHY'S PROPOSAL.

Mr. Oliver—The honorable member has certainly given us a deluge of statement in support of his plea that the part of the new province of Alberta south of township 38 should have fifteen representatives in the first legislature of the province as against ten in the northern part, but I think he has given very little argument in support of his contention that this question should be referred to a commission of judges. It struck me that the whole argument we have heard in regard to this matter from the other side of the House was very strongly tinged with partisanship, that from beginning to end the argument was on partisanship, and I merely suggest that if the commission of judges were appointed and if it should be so unfortunate as to agree with the schedule placed before the House, I am afraid that the commissioners would not be free from accusations of partisanship from my honorable friend on the other side. They could hardly be expected to agree with his very remarkable contention that the situation demands fifteen representatives in the south as against ten in the north. I think that admission on his part is a sufficient evidence as to his desire for a careful judicial decision and a sufficient answer to his assertion of non-made. I think I am safe to say, on the part of my honorable friend and myself, to meet our co-members of the southern part of the province to discuss this amicably, and arrive at a joint conclusion, but we only needed to meet once to find out that our conclusions were as wide apart as the statements which my honorable friend has made in the House and the positions of my honorable friend from Strathcona and myself. In fact I am unable to understand they absolutely refused to join in the discussion.

HATLTAIN'S GERRYMANDER.

The first position taken by the honorable member for Calgary (Mr. M. S. McCarthy) is that the distribution of seats which was made by the local partisanship, OPPOSITION MEMBERS DECLINED TO CONFER.

In regard to his complaint that my honorable friend from Strathcona (Mr. P. Talbot) and myself have had more or less to do with the preparation of this map and schedule, I do not know that either my honorable friend or myself have any apologies to offer for having given such advice as we may have been able to give to the government in regard to this matter, which certainly concerns the constituencies which we represent. I may say, further, that in the early part of the discussion on these Autonomy Bills, there was an offer assembly after the election of 1902 was a proper basis of representation. He takes the ground that because the North-West Assembly made that distribution, it therefore must be right—a distribution which gave eight seats south of this township line of township 38 and six seats north.

SIX NORTHERN SEATS POLED MORE VOTES THAN EIGHT SOUTHERN SEATS.

In the votes that were polled on the 3rd of November last the six northern seats polled 9,817 against 9,666 polled in the eight southern seats. The honorable member takes that proportion of seats as a fair basis of representation, and I leave his argument to the House for its consideration. We say that it is not a fair basis.

MCARTHY'S STYLE OF REASONING.

Take for instance his suggestion that because customs receipts in the southern half are greater than in the northern half, its population must be greater and the southern half must be entitled to greater representation. On the same basis of calculation, the city of Montreal would be entitled to a greater representation than all the rest of the province of Quebec. A similar argument he has used with regard to the receipts of the land offices and the receipts from timber and other dues. Well, the amount of receipts indicate the amount of trade and the wealth of the country, and no one disputes that in this southern country with its nine hundred miles of railway and its investment of capital for many years, there is a greater aggregation of wealth than in the northern part with only one hundred miles of railway in operation. But it does not follow that the northern part shall be disfranchised because its people have not as much money in the banks, or because the customs receipts or the land office receipts are less. It is the people who vote and not their money.

IRRIGATION NOT EVIDENCE OF POPULATION.

The question is to the number of people who are to have representation, and when my honorable friend leaves that question and gives us a lot of very interesting statistics to show how the country in the south has progressed, he does not thereby strengthen his case. My honorable friend has suggested that because great irrigation works are going on in the vicinity of Calgary there must be a large population there. But he knows that these irrigation works were undertaken because there was no population to speak of in that country because it was not a country suitable for a large population. As a matter of fact, this great district, in which these irrigation works are situated, and which has something like 200 miles of railway, cast a vote at the last election of about 700 or, 800. Because a country has 300 miles of railway, he says, it must have a large aggregation of people, but here it is a district with 200 miles of railway which cast only 700 on 800 votes. The extension of railways is not an evidence of dense population, and everybody knows that a great part of southern Alberta—while it is a most desirable country, a country in which men have become wealthy—is not suitable for a dense population. It is a ranching country, the population of which must largely be in the town—a prosperous, if you like, population, but not a dense population.

REPRESENTATION BY POPULATION.

In regard to the considerations upon which the distribution before the House is made, it has been stated already that the vote east at the last Dominion election was accepted as the basis of population. That was accepted because it was the most recent, definite, unquestioned and unquestionable statement that could be obtained. There was nothing more recent that would be absolutely authoritative. My honorable friend complains that the number of votes on the list were not considered instead of the number of votes east. That might alter the conditions slightly, but not materially; but everybody will admit that, prepared as our voters' lists are in the west, there may be some question as to the reliability of the list, but there is no question as to the reliability of the votes when the ballots are in the box.

THE STORY OF THE POLL.

Now the vote cast at the Dominion election in the province of Alberta, not including the district of Athabasca, amounted to practically 21,000. Giving twelve constituencies in the south, including Red Deer, although part of it is outside the line mentioned, that is 11,406 votes in the twelve southern constituencies as against 9,553 votes in the eleven northern constituencies, a difference of 1,853 votes, exclusive of the district of Athabasca. Now, we say that the greater area of the northern part of the old district of Alberta, to which is added the area of the district of Athabasca, and the prospective increase of population resulting from the construction of 275 miles of railroad during the present year and the balance of 700 miles of railroad within the next four years, are certainly ample justification for the schedule.

THE SOUTH GETS ALL IT CAN CLAIM.

We believe that the allowance of 1,800 votes for the difference between 69,000 square miles in the south and 211,000 square miles in the north, with the increase of railway facilities, is certainly not taking any undue advantage. On the contrary, we consider that the south is receiving everything that it can reasonably claim or that is claimed by sound argument, from the statement my honorable friend has made here to-day.

WOULD OBLITERATE STONY PLAIN.

I was rather struck by the easy way in which my honorable friend disposed of a certain constituency to which he particularly objected, the proposed constituency of Stony Plain. He spoke at some length of the population of the constituency of Cardston. Now the constituency of Cardston I know probably as well as he does and Cardston only gave 649 valid votes at the last election, while the district of Stony Plain gave a little over 600 votes. But he proceeds at once to eliminate the constituency of Stony Plain by producing a map which he says shows there are no surveyed lands within that constituency. Now the department of the Interior may have made an error, and may not have shown the surveys that have been made there, but I can assure him that the constituency of Stony Plain, as it lies on the map, contains 10 organized school districts which are conducted year in and year out, and most of these school buildings are quite equal to any in any country locality in eastern or western Canada. There is no part of Manitoba or of the North West Territories that is more closely settled than the settled portion of this particular district of Stony Plain, and there is no part more successful in its farming operations. But my honorable friend, by the scratch of a pen absolutely writes it out of existence. But the people of Stony Plain do not recognize that they are off the map, for they have been busy in selecting a resident candidate to represent them locally. My honorable friend mentioned some names as having some connection with this particular constituency. These gentlemen have no connection with it, and that only shows that my honorable friend is not careful in the arguments he puts before the House to support his contention.

A FAIR DISTRIBUTION.

I submit that the contention as to an undue preponderance of representation to the north country which according to the census have a population of 36,398 as against a population of 33,040 in the south country, does not carry with it the imputation of unfairness. Taking the census, taking all the facts, taking the comparative areas, taking the railroad construction now in progress, and the further railroad construction in prospect there has been an eminently fair and entirely satisfactory distribution of seats in the province of Alberta.

THE OLD DIVISIONS NOT MADE BY JUDGES.

The unfairness of the old distribution is that eight districts in the south have only as many votes as six districts in the north. I find, on looking at the distribution of 1902—last distribution which by the way was arrived at without a commission of judges, and of course was entirely without any partisan bias—that this distribution gives the Macleod district which cast a vote of 1,700 or 1,800

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

IN CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Brief Items from many sources tell the story of the day's events.

MONK'S AMENDMENT DEFEATED.

Ottawa, June 28.—The Bourassa amendment was lost by 7 for to 126 against. The following were the seven: Bourassa, Lavergne, Monk, Bergeron, Leonard, Paquette, Morin, Two Liberals and five Conservatives.

STREET CAR RAN AWAY.

Guelph, June 29.—A bad accident occurred at the C. P. R. station today in which twelve excursionists from Simcoe to the agricultural college were injured seriously. Street cars had been run to the depot to convey the passengers to the college and trailer No. 7 was standing at the top of the steep grade leading to the C. P. R. yards. It was detached from the motor and crowded with people, when it is supposed some one released the brake. This caused the car to start down the grade with terrific speed. It crashed into the C. P. R. tracks and into the freight cars.

CANNIBALISM IN HUNGARY.

Vilna, June 29.—Twenty gypsies were arrested in Hungary charged with cannibalism. One man is known to have eaten nineteen children.

GERMANS DEFEATED.

Cape Town, June 28.—Chief Mingo has won a victory over the German troops in South West Africa. One hundred Germans were killed.

TOWN WRECKED.

Phillipsburg, Kansas, June 28.—The town was wrecked by a tornado yesterday and six were killed.

RUSSIA'S TROUBLES.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—Sixty thousand reserve men are to be called to the colors. In the provinces there is much trouble in collecting them.

An Odessa despatch says the crew of a Russian battleship mutinied on account of bad food served to them, and a member of the crew presented a petition. The commander had him shot. The crew came ashore with the body and created great excitement. Cossacks tried to disperse the crowd but failed. It is rumored that the officers were murdered by the crew.

CALLED TO THE BAR.

Winnipeg, June 28.—A case unparalleled in the history of the courts in this province, occurred this afternoon when the sons of two Canadian judges, one a son of Mr. Justice Burbridge of the Exchequer Court of Canada and the other the eldest son of County Court Judge Locke of this province were called to the bar of Manitoba.

FINE WEATHER PROMISED.

It has been warm and fair in Alberta, with light showers in the Red Deer district. In Assiniboia and Manitoba it is generally warm and showery. Very heavy rains fell around Portage La Prairie and Winnipeg, and heavy showers at many places in southern Manitoba.

This morning it is clear in all districts and indications now point to more settled conditions and the weather will be generally fine and warmer, except for a few scattered showers.

Again Sentenced

voice said, "My Lord, I say I am not guilty. If the man Hayward is dead, I had nothing to do with it. I don't know if he is dead. Never had such an idea in my head as to murder anyone, and I know I had no idea to murder Hayward. I don't know if he is dead. I knew he was alive when I last saw him. If he is dead I hope you will find out who did it. I am sure I never did it."

His Lordship then said, "You have had a fair trial, and on the evidence I do not see how the jury could arrive at any other verdict. There is nothing left for me to do, but to order that you be taken to the barracks at Fort Saskatchewan and detained there until the 31st day of August, when you shall be taken to the place of execution, and there be hanged by the neck until you are dead. I can hold out no hope for the remission of your sentence by the powers at Ottawa, and my advice to you is in the meantime to prepare to meet your God."

SUMMING UP THE CASE.

The afternoon session of the court resumed at 1:30 p.m., and for about forty minutes the jury listened to His Lordship's summing up of the case. His charge to the jury was a calm and unpassionate review of the evidence. He said the Crown, by the evidence, had appeared to throw all the light possible upon the murder of Edward Hayward and it was now for the jury to decide whether or not the prisoner was guilty of murder. He explained that a verdict might be manslaughter or murder. Manslaughter was killing under passion, while murder was done deliberately and with malice aforethought. In this case, he said, manslaughter was impossible. If Hayward was killed, it was murder, and the prisoner was either guilty or not guilty of murder.

This was a second trial. He could not explain why the last trial had been considered unfair by the Supreme Court, but he did know that the present trial was a fair one, and the verdict must be given upon the evidence heard in this trial alone. As to circumstantial evidence, in some cases it was the only kind of evidence that could be secured about a crime, as when a man undertakes to commit murder, he usually takes every precaution he can to prevent any witness of the affair, and in this case the only kind of evidence there could be was circumstantial.

The question, he said, for the jury to decide was whether or not they believed the evidence, and whether they think it sufficient to bring home the crime to the prisoner. The evidence showed that the two men left here were seen several times on the way out, and if the evidence of the Indians is to be believed, they were at the Sucker Creek reserve. These Indians were all able to identify Hayward from the photo, and the Judge said there seemed to be little doubt as to the genuineness of their identification.

If Hayward reached Sucker Creek is he still alive? If dead did he meet his death at the hands of the prisoner? These were the questions. His Lordship said the jury had to answer in their verdict. The effect of the prisoner's contradictory statements, especially that of denying Hayward was his partner, the Judge concluded, was against him.

The finding of those articles in the slough was strong evidence. They were articles that Hayward would not throw away.

The theory urged by the counsel for the defence that some of the Indians may have committed the crime, and Moosonee had arranged the evidence, was hardly probable in view of the fact that it was Moosonee who instigated the enquiry. Had he given no information to Sgt. Anderson, an investigation might never have been held. He said the jury might take the suggestion of the unreliability of the evidence of the Indians with a grain of salt. His Lordship considered their evidence quite as reliable as that of any average witness. He then referred to the evidence of Dr. Primrose as to the bones being part of a human skull, followed up by the testimony that these bones were found in King's fire. It was impossible for the Crown to show that Hayward was not in the country. The jury must judge from the evidence whether or not they think Hayward dead and whether or not, beyond a reasonable doubt, he was killed by King.

It is not necessary to give a resume of the errors for which King is to suffer the extreme penalty of the law, as the details of both trials are still fresh in the public mind.

EDUCATIONAL CLAUSE

IS NOW BEFORE THE HOUSE.

Mr. Borden moves an Amendment to throw the vagaries of Clause 93 into the New Provinces.

Ottawa, June 28.—The educational clauses of the Autonomy Bill were proceeded with in the House today. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in moving the amendment to the clause, made a long speech in which he set forth that in regard to education there was no such thing as absolute provincial rights. Parliament was bound to apply the present local school system. The law worked on the whole satisfactorily after fourteen years' trial.

Mr. Borden said the Premier's speech was an impassioned appeal made because Sir Wilfrid was not sure if his followers coincided with his views and moved an amendment to insert instead clause 93 of the B. N. A. Act.

This was lost 87 against 37 for. Messrs. Bergeron and Bourassa made long speeches and moved as an amendment the original clause. Mr. Oliver announced changes in the Saskatchewan schedule. Moosejaw City will have one member. This will make one less constituency in the north. Mr. Borden offered to have a conference with the Liberals over the redistribution in Saskatchewan and Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would agree to it.

PARLIAMENT.

at the last election, one representative while it gives two representatives to the adjoining district of Cardston and Lethbridge which together did not give as large a vote. Now, we may not have made a division absolutely to the line of a hair's breadth, but we certainly have made a distribution which shines by comparison with that made by our friends of the local assembly in 1902, if the case of the district of Macleod is to be considered. The district of Macleod has had to wait for this distribution in order to get justice.

HOMESTEAD ENTRIES

As to homestead entries when the honorable gentleman (Mr. M. S. McCarthy) thinks the homestead entries are in his favor he accepts them, but if he thinks they are against him he rejects them as a basis of calculation. I have inquired in the department and I find that in the country lying north of the District of Medicine Hat and west of the 10th principle meridian—the part principally occupied by the present District of Vermillion—in which my honorable friend suggests that there is practically no population, the records of the department show 6,000 homestead entries from the 4th meridian to range 18 and from township 38 to township 70. That is the part of the country which the honorable gentleman suggests is not entitled to representation at all. That constituency is on the line of the Canadian Northern Railway part of which was graded last fall, the balance of which is being graded now, the iron on which will be laid this fall and any person who understands anything about the progress of settlement in that country and knows the character of that country, every foot of it a good agricultural country, will know that in the nature of things there must have been a very large entry of homesteaders along the line of railroad.

LOCAL

—A heavy rain fell at Fort Saskatchewan yesterday afternoon.

—The public schools closed yesterday to re-open on August 28.

—The Calgary base ball team comes up tomorrow to play the Capitals on the grounds here in the evening.

—Last night's train brought in a very large number of people from Calgary and along the line to visit the fair.

—The marriage of Mr. J. E. Ellis, of the city high school staff, and Miss Marion Green took place last evening in All Saints church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. A. Gray.

—Mr. P. Welesman of Toronto will give a piano recital in McDougall church on Friday evening. Mr. Welesman who is a graduate of Kausse, Leipzig, Germany, will examine candidates for the Toronto Conservatory of music while in the city.

—Regina, June 27.—J. A. Bangs, the Calgary lawyer, exonerated in June of last year for being receiver of monies stolen from mail by Clerk Wilcox between Moosejaw and Calgary was released today upon conditions that he at once leave Canada. Bangs was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment and only had six months more to serve.

—The suggestion has been made that the decorations arranged for the fair by the business houses of the city be left up until Tuesday next, when the American journalists visit the city. The plan would be no inconvenience, and would probably be appreciated by the visitors from the neighbouring country who will spend their national holiday in town.

LACROSSE TO-NIGHT

Strathcona and Edmonton play lacrosse on the ball grounds tonight. The game is called for 7 o'clock sharp. Those leaving the fair grounds to attend the game will not be charged for re-admission to see the fireworks.

THE BULLETIN AT THE FAIR

The Bulletin will be issued and delivered early in the afternoon today and tomorrow, and will be for sale by boys on the fair grounds about two o'clock each day. There will be no issue of the Bulletin on Saturday.

BASE BALL GAME

With the aid of the umpire, the Red Deer base ball team defeated the Capitals by a score of 4 to 3 last evening. The game was at times a very good exhibition, but quite a few errors occurred in some of the Innings, in fact it was through errors in fielding and throwing to bases, that Red Deer was able to make their score. The game began with Red Deer at the bat. The first two men didn't reach first base, but through an error in throwing to first, the third man got around followed by the fourth and two runs were placed to the credit of the Red Deers. Edmonton then went to bat and four runs were scored on each side, goose eggs marked the score.

In the fifth Innings the Edmonton boys scored their first run, but in the next red Deer scored another. In the seventh the Capitals evened the score by adding two to their total, but in the eighth Red Deer made another. Cyphers marked the remaining Innings and so the victory went to the visiting team.

The teams were pretty evenly matched in their playing, they both can stand some practicing and it is respectfully urged that the Capitals get together and put in some time training for the next match.

The line-up was as follows:
 CAPITALS. RED DEER.
 Till. H. Berry.
 Bush. E. Eggerton.
 Thompson. L. H. Bratton.
 Deacon. H. H. Hobbs.
 Gilmour. J. H. Slusher.
